my pride and joy..

okay listen up gentlemen veterans vitamins specimen Letterman tell a friend pedal in' amphetamine medicine Medalin hematology skeleton trojan velatin reverend see no evil since Solomon origin motherland must I begin babbling?
amphibian oblivion
I'm livin' the life of ten men following a mannequin that leads you straight into a brick wall you shall fall like Berlin you believe in oppression lesson learnin' Zen gatherin fondlin' oxygen wonder if this never could truly never be comprehended
I bled so sick when down to a mic and a pen listen

it's the greatest show on earth nah, it's the greatest show ever heard wanna surf my internet highway, complete with beats and words

on any occasion my language invasion will toy with you at will my spills flood country crops and small town villages my image is seen through, moonstruck shadow, big screen, space station eight 'faceless voice placed in timeless verbal arenas while you tiptoe ballerinas step past your past I pass my everlasting, spell casting, mass occultation(?) you need more livation(?) so drink from my hands, while you sink down into the sand one allows you to take stand and then you collapse and you land lifeless just mere flesh and bones and some ideas that went unknown no more fears, we can go home now sincerely, Aceyalone I know some brothers full of hate some full of faith and some full of... as I drift this animated digital state my mental gets more sick I have journeyed from the sperm to the germ when no stone's unturned from a haunting past only wanting what will last is my concern

nah, it's the greatest show on the planet can it be that you just can't see what I see granted

now maybe I should warn you before I storm on you some more disarm you, reform you don't wanna harm you or alarm you but nobody's leavin' here till they stop breathin' and choke ever since I was a child teethin' and able to speak I spoke heathen under this tent's the greatest show ever seen ever heard from the evergreen to the neverland ranch you never dreamed but you slept and I witnessed it it's over your head it's way outta your grasp now you're outta weed outta cash outta gas and you're outta style outta place and you're outta time and you're outta touch and you're outta line and you're outta turn outta tune and you're outta wind and you're one outta ten who must be outta their goddamn minds I'm outta reach I'm outta you're element out of the ordinary outta sight I'm a outsider it's outta my hands I'm outta this world on the mic and this is the greatest show on earth it's the greatest show in the world gotta pocket full of dirt and rocks but I'm tryin' to give you this pearl it's a concrete forest of course it is of course it is the lamp posts are the oak trees the street tops are the streams

the natives stay inside their huts until that bright sun beams then slowly they crept out to get some air some argued some screamed some beamed some slept some re-tatched some wept some hobbled some betrayed some planted some begged some parted others laughed some panicked some breathed some movement by the trees (gotcha)

somebody some magical logical something in the loom some whom shall I say that someone is watching every step you take some doom is waiting for you in my shed some thought some book some author's point of view some bled some bland some music by the band some danced some stood some drunk some plotted some plant some growth some joint some exotic some got it in the end and they bought the farm some dared some apple some charm some scared some hands around your neck some place some trouble some scalpel some fallin' from beginnin' to end but never could understand that greatest show on earth

it's the greatest show in the world

it's the greatest show on the planet can it be that I just can see what you can't granted

it's the greatest show ever heard wanna surf my internet highway complete with beats and words

it's way beyond belivin' everybody end up coming but nobody end up leavin'
