More and more and more and more....
Just a little bit more
just a little bit more
just a tiny bit more
More and more and more and more...

they always want a little more than they got never take a little when they always take a lot didn't any want more cause they never stop you always on the bottom and they always on the top they know what to say, you face em every day always got a place for you in case you wanna play a fire in the hole couldn't chase em away they come around and take it all and never wanna stay gotta have extra, add to the texture I don't want a lecture but that's a nice gesture need a bigger portion put it on my plate gluttony and suddenly there's nothin else to take less is more unless you poor gimme everything and leave a mess on the floor want the best score and the rest of yours they forge and the gorge and they whore just a little bit...

[Hook]

no they not satisfied no it's not enough make mine bigger pile it up to the roof over your head I need more bread even my ego needs to be fed locked and load headed for the war zone I need more stones to crush more bones greedy and lust for em must have been known we only want everything leave us alone want you to give up more than you ever did before open doors so I never get bored it's never too many, gimme gimme gimme come on down my chimney and gimme somethin good add somethin to it super size kick it up a notch gimme everything that you got in your stock make it a double I don't want trouble

I'm takin all the rest of these don't look puzzled

[Hook]

it's perfectly normal to not have morals no more talented they want every morsel who is the mortal I see every mornin with more than a little bit he must be important no I'm not surprised you want more fries you wanna be formally immortalized mortified at the borderline cause this moron got more than mine I need morphine, I want more things the mortgage is due and I need more green to get more high, bye bye bye take it or steal it or get it with a lie an eye for an eye, make it more wide I need more room when I jump the ride there's more than enough more stuff I can hide I need all mines in an endless supply

[Hook and fade out]
