Winter's coming cold and strong
Ice complicates the cobblestones
You can't believe you still want to breathe
How we ever gonna get this home?

I can't sleep
In the wake of all these weeks
Cold crystalline, marina!

You want to disappear with june
You want to fade out like a bruise
Reimagine what they have on tape
The night still lingers, it's not over you

I can't sleep
In the wake of all these weeks

Cold crystalline, marina!

A cavalcade
Some motions made
The plans you laid
Like newspapers fade

And blood will color concrete floors
Ruby notes upon the score
Each ember plays the books ablaze
I'll be here when you want to change your name!

I can't sleep
In the wake of all these weeks
Cold crystalline, marina!

Come,
Marina!
Change your name,
Marina.
