Sometimes

The hardest thing to do in life is try to understand the reason why we have to cry.

One day

I still believe if we can see the possibilities the world can be a better place.

So many miracles are happening around us every day
Look to the mountaintop, not the mountain in your way.

Side by side, heart to heart

We can finish anything we start

Anything can be done

With just one dream

One friend

You know that's all it takes is just one friend to lend a hand. A helping hand, that's all it takes.

One Smile

Sometimes that's all it takes is just one smile and darkness breaks that's all it takes is just one smile

So many people miss the miracle of what it is to care.
Love is what brings us all together, anyway

Side by side, heart to heart

We can finish anything we start

Anything can be done

With just one dream

Hand in hand, we can do

What it takes to make our dreams come true

For each of us, if we trust

In just one dream

We are the wings

We can fly into forever

Like a promise of the sun

We're born to shine

We have the strength

We can change the world together
Build a stairway to the stars that we can climb

Side by side, heart to heart
We can finish anything we start
Anything can be done
With just one dream

Hand in hand, You and I, we can do
What it takes to make our dreams come true

Each of us, if we trust, in just one dream

In just one dream
