People search but they don't know what they're
searching for

People hurt but they don't know what they're hurting for

People lost but they don't know what they're looking for

People search but they don't know what they're
searching for

Living, giving

The rhythm of your soul is calling out to you

You'd better listen

Listen good

Nothing stopping

You fulfilling every wish and every thought

You know there's a power inside of you

Don't look for love

Don't look for; let it find you

Don't look for love

Don't look for love; let it find you

Don't look for love

Don't look for love

Don't look for; let it find you

Don't look for love

Don't look for love; let it find you

People search but they don't know what they're
searching for

People work but they don't know what they're working
for

People hurt but they don't know what they're hurting for

People search but they don't know what they're

searching for

Living, giving

The rhythm of your soul is calling out to you

You'd better listen

Listen good

Seeing, feeling is believing

Do what you wanna do

You know there's a power inside of you

Don't look for love

Don't look for; let it find you

Don't look for love

Don't look for love; let it find you

Don't look for love

Don't look for love

Don't look for; let it find you

Don't look for love

Don't look for love; let it find you

People search but they don't know what they're

searching for

People lost but they don't know what they're looking for

People work but they don't know what they're working

for

People search but they don't know what they're

searching for

Living, giving

The rhythm of your soul is calling out to you

You'd better listen

Listen good

Nothing stopping

You fulfilling every wish and every thought

You know there's a power inside of you

Don't look for love

Don't look for; let it find you

Don't look for love

Don't look for love; let it find you

Don't look for love

Don't look for love

Don't look for; let it find you

Don't look for love

Don't look for love; let it find you

Love, love

Let it find you
