

Bruce Cockburn

"Re-Entry"

Visit "Re-Entry" on MotoLyrics.com

Say goodbye to earths children on a sleigh ride to the moon
Blue and white in the distance, not sorry Im leaving you
Now and then the earthrise fills my eyes
Now and then the darkside fills the sky
Turn around the starlight warms my skin
Even in the blackness theres a tune
Now that Im not with you I close my eyes and dream
Remember all my days as a prisoner of gravity
I left a piece of history and the future has begun
Sat here with my feet hung up and nowhere is my home
Now and then the earthrise fills my dreams
Squeeze my fist in anger, remember what it means
Turn around the starlight warms my skin
Everyday in the blackness we begin...again
Now and then the earthrise fills my eyes
Squeeze my fist in anger, remember what it means
Turn around the starlight warms my skin
Everyday in the blackness we begin
Welcome back to the human race so very far from home
I know I should be lonely but theres too much going on
I left this ball of sadness when the fighting had begun
To leave behind your mayhem, your chemistry are free

Visit Bruce Cockburn page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.