Don't close your eyes in the darkness
You know, men, you can rescue mankind
Look in the past and tell me what you stare
Through the fire, the flesh explodes
Open your mind in this high fever
And reflect to steer clear of the wars
This could be heaven or this could be hell
Beware of tomorrow
We're close to the edge

I believed it for the while
But disaster is far behind
Don't you hear the cries
Rising up all over again
To save what the entire human race
Had left

Let's think about fight
Let's think about misery
Let's think about hate
That's the way
Take over of power
While forgetting reality
Spill blood on fire
For life and beyond the grave
Let's think about fight

(Solo: Olivier)

Sin after sin the damage is done
And the countdown has already start
May god forgive us to look away
And still left the sadness grow
So you can feel the loneliness
As if in a dream out of time
Just cling to power or just cling to life
And care about tomorrow to care for the past

I believed it for the while
But disaster is far behind
Don't you hear the cries, yeah

Rising up all over again
To save what the entire human race

Let's think about fight
Let's think about misery
Let's think about hate
That's the way
Take over of power
While forgetting reality
Spill blood on fire
For life and beyond the grave

Let's think about fight
Take over of power
Spill blood on fire

Now ride out the storm
And take the chance
To find inner peace and to repent
We still carry on...

(Solo: Charley / Olivier)

Let's think about fight
Take over of power
Spill blood on fire

Let's think about fight
Let's think about hate
Take over of power
Spill blood on fire

(Solo: Olivier)
