i know how you look at the world
i know how you look at the world everything can be explained by forms and charts and numbers everything i feel is explained

it's a chemical formula
i hold these secrets inside of me
it's a chemical formula

if you dissect it you can control it if you can name it then you can own it i don't wanna play operation anymore i'm tired of ending up with my organs on your floor

it's a chemical formula
it's a chemical formula

you want to diagram my heart is it so that you will know how to take it apart if you want to know what i feel you could never just ask me
