I don't wanna play anymore of your games
You made the rules to tie me up and tie me down
Spoiling the sport of girl-catching
Hunting me down in the schoolyard playground park

I dont wanna play anymore of your games
So I stop the game
And this time you lose

My body severed on the twist and slide
She remembers more than she will ever tell
Parts of me you catch in your ugly hands
I won't see it happen again
And I won't see it happen again...

And I dont wanna play anymore of your fucking games
So I stop the game
And this time you lose

I'm watching you boy
I'm watching you
I'm watching you boy
I'm watching you

Now the games go on in the dark and without me
You know what to say that will make me squirm
And I have cut my tongue one too many times And I wont let it happen again
No I wont let it happen again

And I dont wanna play anymore of your fucking games
So I stop the game
And this time you lose
So I stop the game
And this time you lose
