"Down"

I can feel my life slipping away,
The sickness is with me every day.
I can't move under this weight,
Feeding me more from it's hate.

I feel like the prodigal son.
I'm the excess of your evolution
And I can't make a sound,
The fear won't stop it drags me down.

Here in this hole, the fear grows, it grows so strong in me.

Stumbling, falling and I'm fading away
I know that no-one can catch me now
I'm wishing and hoping that somebody will say
Close your eyes it's all over now.

Now, it seems as though I'm losing my way,
Covered from the light of day.
And in the dark I'm alone,
I've forgotten my way home

Here in this hole, the fear grows, it grows so strong in me.

Stumbling, falling and I'm fading away
I know that no-one can catch me now
I'm wishing and hoping that somebody will say
Close your eyes it's all over now.
