It falls away to the floor, im left here with you.
Cause I am frozen, nothing else to say, nothing to do.
I have wanted to fly away,
Because in this world of ours fear creates shame.

You breathe in pain..
You breathe in pain.

And your wishing it falls away.
Fly.
And your wishing it falls away.
Fly.
And your wishing it falls away.
Fly.
And your wishing it falls.

Spend everyday hoping it falls away.

So many times, I've looked deep into the face of fear,
Not once realizing my own eyes were staring back.
Perceived to be external from this flesh and bone.
All the time, festering from within.

I really want to know is what will make it go away.

Why?

And your wishing it falls away.
Fly.
And your wishing it falls away.
Fly.
And your wishing it falls away.
Fly.
And your wishing it falls.
