Man was a knife expert, kinda Jim Bowie type,
swaggerin', blusterin', coon skin, I said "your not serious, right"?

Then I saw him grab my friend by the hair and I guess I should have prayed as he dragged him round, I said to myself, "There's gonna be some changes made".

(Gonna be some changes made)

Girl I knew and loved alone twenty years from a far,
with a finger to her lips, she led me out to see the stars.
She led me to the gritty lake and in it we did wade, she took my hand and put it there - gonna be some changes made.

(Gonna be some changes made)

Gonna... be some..
gonna be some changes made!

(Gonna be some changes made)

Gonna be some changes made, changes made, can't keep doin' what I've been doin' these days.
Look in the mirror, I see a clowns face, gotta take it off,
gotta get myself straight.

Gonna be some changes made, some changes made,
can't keep doin' what I've been doin' these days.
Better figure out something, things are looking grave.
Gonna be some changes made, changes made.

Up front for all to see, graceful like a bumblin' fool,
then I thought I felt from my mouth slip a liitle drool,
maybe no one noticed, on my mind heavily it weighed,
I saw two people snickering, I said "there needs to be some changes made."

(Gonna be some, gonna be some changes made.

(Gonna be , be some changes made)

Gonna,
be some changes made
gonna be some changes made

Goin' home, I've done enough to sow my little name, goin' where the fields are green and I can do my macrame.
A buffoon fumblin' without a clue, who likes to shift the blame and often feels betrayed.
... there's gonna be some changes made.

Gonna be some changes, changes made
can't keep doin' what I've been doin' these days
look in the mirror, I see a clowns face, gotta take it off,
gotta get myself straight.

Gonna be some changes, changes made
can't keep doin' what I've been doin' these days
look in the mirror, I see a clowns face, gotta take it off,
gotta get myself straight.
(gonna be some changes made)

Gonna be some changes....
Gonna be some changes...
Changes made.
