What kind of car does she drive
Is her hair as soft as mine
Where does she live
Does she have any kids
Does her touch make you weak
What's it like to love her
And to lose me
What kind of perfume does she like
Does she melt in your arms on rainy nights
How long have you known
I've known all along
What did the two of you need
What's it like to love her
And to lose me
I hope she's everything you need and dream about
Don't let what we had hit you on your easy way out
When you lay down with her tonight
We'll see who loses sleep
What's it like to love her
And to lose me
I hope she's everything you need and dream about
Don't let what we had hit you on your easy way out
When you lay down with her tonight
We'll see who loses sleep
What's it like to love her
And to lose me
What kind of car does she drive
Is her hair as soft as mine
