I'm the kind of guy
Who likes to think before he leaps
I never sound off my alarm
As darkness gently creeps
Into this heart
That sometimes doubts that I will find my place
When I look in the mirror and see my smiling face

I can feel it turn around
Since you put your trust in me
I can feel it changing now
So I wanted to see you

You got me believing
When my whole world's falling apart
You give out a feeling
Since you broke into my heart
And the way you touch me, hold me, know me
All the things you do
You got me believing
In you

I'm the kind of guy
Who likes to play by different rules
I never try to break them
Just to bend and to prove
But something in me must be right
Although they say I'm wrong
Maybe I was born to fight but now I'm moving on

I can feel it turn around
Since you put your trust in me
I can feel it changing now
So I wanted to see you

You got me believing
When my whole world's falling apart
You give out a feeling
Since you broke into my heart
And the way you touch me, hold me, know me
All the things you do

You got me believing
In you

Everytime that I fall into
Bad habits you show up and save the day
You always find a way

You got me believing
When my whole world's falling apart
You give out a feeling
Since you broke into my heart
And the way you touch me, hold me, know me
All the things you do
You got me believing
In you
You got me believing
You got me believing
In you
