EMOTION

Helen Reddy

Lonely, well out of desperate come
And I'm hanging at the end of a line
Losing hope when the phone doesn't ring
It's a feeling I choose over feeling alone

Then you stumble in
And I am tumblin back where it begins
Cause you can spread my wings
I'm saving the powers and dreams
To plot a million strings with emotion
And you can fill my nights
Oh, and blow out all my lights
Till I see nothing but my emotions
My emotions
I'm running out of ways makin you care
As hard as I try you know it just isn't there
For all I give I'm only getting old
When I think I'm finally back in control

Then you stumble in
And I am tumblin back where it begins
Cause you can spread my wings
I'm saving the powers and dreams
To plot a million strings with emotion
And you can fill my nights
Oh, and blow out all my lights
Till I see nothing but my emotions
My emotions

And you can spread my wings
I'm saving the powers and dreams
To plot a million strings with emotion
And you can fill my nights
