Oh, I cried last night, how I cried last night.
For I knew the warning you had given me last night.
Now it's over, yes, it's over
And my tears are all too late.

I won't sleep tonight, I will weep tonight,
But the years filled with tears could not put this right,
For I've lost you, I have lost you, now I'm only little miss lonely.

A tear is such a very lonely thing,
But crying is the only thing that I can find to do since I lost you.

I am wiser now, so much wiser now,
But my wisdom is the wisdom of a fool somehow.
For I love you, I still love you,
But I'm only little miss lonely.

A tear.... (repeat)

I am wiser now.... (repeat)

For I love you, I still love you,
But I'm only little miss lonely.
