I stand on the place
I stand on the floor
I've never seen so many like me before
It's always nervous at the first time
We are all standing in the line

It feels like I'm home
'cause I've been lost so long
It feels like I'm home again

All of us have fought for this
This is the place I can't resist
We are who we are
We have no fear
don't know how it ends but it starts here

It feels like I'm home
'cause I've been lost so long
It feels like I'm home again

It feels like I'm home
'cause I've been lost so long
It feels like I'm home again
