Once my life was just a lonely room
With no one to take away my gloom
Waiting for someone to come
And fill my life with love
Ooh sweet love

And set my heart on fire, fire
Burning in the flame of love
Higher, higher
Than the stars above
I need someone to dive me in water, water
That will make me strong
Oh I need somebody
To burn me in the flame of love

Every cloud must have a silver lining
You came alone my knight in armour shining
All my life I've been knocking on doors
Now I'm so glad that door that opened was yours

And set my heart on fire, fire
Burning in the flame of love
Ooh you take me higher, higher
Than the stars above
I need someone to dive me in water, water
That will make me strong
Oh I need somebody
To burn me in the flame of love

Oh pretty baby
I'm burning, burning at your love
I need you ooh pretty baby
I'm burning at your flame of love
