ghost town, watch it all come back to life with a vengeful smile into the blood, drowning into the blood midnight, I heard them whispering soft ground, be careful where you tread wasteland, watch it all come down on your knees we'll drown in you now

drowning into the blood

we will not go quietly once more into the firing line disguises all washed away these ruins will rise again
