Your happy faces and beautiful dresses ready to go out
While your children are making the carnage of the day
You click on your money to see on your screens sex'n'fucks
You hate the one that tomorrow you will glorify

Say hello to your world
And see how it goes bad
Say hello to your soul
You don't feel how dirt they are?

New shining cars killing all lifeforms on their road
You wash your black sins
In the next saint saint church
You spit out your hate on all the guys that don't look like you
Stop for today tomorrow will be
Time to start again

Say hello to your world
And see how it goes bad
Say hello to your soul
You don't feel how dirt they are?

If you're looking for an exit and you hear my voice... you don't know, man, but this time is too too late

Say hello to your world
And see how it goes bad
Say hello to your soul
You don't feel how dirt they are?
