

Hello Hollywood

"If I Could Be"

Visit "If I Could Be" on MotoLyrics.com

When I was just four years old
I heard a song, sang along,
It made me feel like gold
I picked up my hairbrush, like a microphone

Set the stage, we turned the page
All these years have gone
I guess we haven't changed after all

If I could, if I could be one thing
Then I would, then I would be something
You can't live without because
I can't live without you

If you could, if you could be one thing
Then you should, then you should be something
That I can scream about because
I won't live without you

Now all of these years have gone
I can tell just how you felt
When it all went wrong

There's something that you should know
The more I change, the more we grow
The more I come to realize that I just can't let you go

I guess we haven't changed after all

if i could, if i could be one thing
then i would, then i would be something
you cant live without because
i cant live without you

If you could, if you could be one thing
Then you should, then you should be something
That I can scream about because
I won't live without you

So here we are, a lifetime later,
And I'm wondering where the time went

But I'm loving how my time's spent

So here we are, a lifetime later,
And I'm wondering where the time went
But I'm loving how my time's spent

If I could, if I could be one thing
Then I would, then I would be something
You can't live without because
I can't live without you

If you could, if you could be one thing
Then you should, then you should be something
That I can scream about because
I can't live without you

If I could, if I could be one thing
Then I would, then I would be something
You can't live without because
I can't live without you

If you could, if you could be one thing
Then you should, then you should be something
That I can scream about because
I won't live without you

Visit Hello Hollywood page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.