So the rains pouring down everywhere
And you think that you're in love
When the storm comes and calls at your gates
Will you show me what you're made of

Now I wonder, where's your thunder now
And how will you survive
All those night in the rain all alone
Don't you know that I'm by your side (I'm by your side)

I let down my walls to let you in What have I done?
I didn't know that when the lightening came You'd turn around and run.

Now I wonder, where's your thunder now
And how will you survive
All those night in the rain all alone
Don't you know that I'm by your side (I'm by your side) Ohhh baby, don't you know, don't you know that I'm by your side.
Ohhhuh ohh baby

Take your things and walk away
I didn't know this is how it'd be Takeing back everything you said
And now it's ended in misery.

Now I wonder, where's your thunder now
And how will you survive
All those night in the rain all alone
Don't you know that I'm by your side
Ohh don't you know, don't you know, don't you know that I'm by your side.

Now I wonder where's your thunder now
Now I wonder.
