The problem with your smile is that it's gone.
And all your laughter, will have to wait till after.
And the problem with your clothes is that they're off.
They're folded nicely, and packed up tightly,
Cause you're gone.

But time is burning.
I am learning.
Just cause you're gone doesn't mean you're gone,
Cause your name was written down.

I never thought I'd ever see you bleed.
But your skin is so cold now.
I wish you'd stop pretending to sleep.
And our treehouse and our saturdays are gone.
Now that this is over,
I guess it's my turn to be strong.

Well I want this
I need this
I'm helpless without this

And time is burning
I am learning.

Just cause you're gone doesn't mean you're gone,
Cause your name was written down

And thought I walk these halls alone,
Just cause you're gone doesn't mean you're gone,
Cause your name was written down.

As I lay me, down to sleep, I pray the Lord, my soul to keep.
And if I die, before I wake, I pray the Lord, my soul to take.

And the problem with your eyes is that they still shine

But time is burning,
I am learning.
Just cause you're gone doesn't mean you're gone,

Cause your name was written down.
And though I walk these halls alone.
It's just when you're gone that I feel you're gone.
Cause your name was written down.
