With no end, again.
I know the rhythm's just a little bit faster
But my hearts beating right there after it.
A black top with the children's paintings,
But now we're older and we're never leaving her again.
So swim the ocean, the biggest sea,
And we know were never coming back again.

Again!

Pack your bags, but don't take her heart.
We're just going right back to the start!
I never noticed how your body felt so warm.

The ocean isn't big enough for us.
I never noticed how your body felt so warm,
I never noticed that my body misses yours.
This land is stronger now, we have a newer crown,
And now, we're taking over the world.
I never noticed that my body was ever so warm!
And now I know that I'll never feel the cold

This is your honeymoon.
If June brings gloom, feel it too.
You came unglued from the moon.

I guess we're feelin', and I hope you feel it too (across the moon)
The greatest moment, sent from me and back to you
(back to you)
Oh babe we're feeling, oh God I hope you feel it too
(across the moon, feel it too)
