Looks like the coast is clear. teeming with the caliber
Let's meet at the pier no more sleeping
And I know an escape, I know we're the giants teeth
Water takes the body in and it fills our heart with happiness.

And nothing amends but me

And I know an escape, I know we're the giants teeth
Pitter pattering heart beats pittering pattering feet.

Now it's the end of the century
I can't believe that the snow is falling
Officer owl watch over me
Keeping me tucked in your sleeve

Honey, between you and me
I think you're as smart as a bee
No more, sleeping beauty
Until then, just keep the bee in your bonnet

Wide eyes, but just for a second I,
Notice that everything in my life
Is circular, but just for tonight.
I thought I'd buy you with this necklace baby

Breathing in the back of your mind,
Trade lives put a shiver down your spine
I know I can't live your life
I thought I'd buy you with this necklace baby
