Try to figure this one out. I never could add or subtract quite so well. Please don't tell a soul. This I keep I won't sell. Try to steal this but I cannot protect.

Tempted every day and night.

Forgotten ten times out of ten. Years ago this was not in my head. Stumble and pore over laws for hours and, eyes start to bleed with boredom. I've broken these all without a regret.

Tempted every day and night.

Replace the steps that got us to our necks in this quick quit sand buried in.

I am tempted every day and night
