Dear Jamie I've got a letter I would like to send.

It's lacking strings of words with punctuation at the ends.

Should I trust this dialect?

To convey the right effect?

Dear Jamie I've got some things I'd like to set in pen.

I would have used a pencil but lead's just not permanent.

Should I trust my printer's ink?

To express the things I think?

[Chorus]

Every time I tried my best to think of something to contest

With inside jokes and all other folks who've got much more to say

[Verse]

Dear Jamie... this envelope will represent my heart

I'll seal it, send it off and wish it luck with it's depart.

This stamp will be every action that'll carry my affection

Across the air and land and sea.

Should I trust the postage due

To deliver my heart to you?

[Chorus]

Every page I tried my best to think of something to contest

With inside jokes and other folks who've got much more to say

Every page I've tried my best to think of something to contest

With inside jokes and other folks who've got much
more to say

Give you all I can

A flower and a hand

I hope this helps you see

Signed, Sincerely me.
