I woke up tired and feeling old
And I wondered why my bed was cold.
And I thought 'cause you were gone
And if so, where and how long?
And why would I let you go?
Why would I ever let you go?
Oh sometimes, like I can tell my heart the ice is snow
Like sometimes, I wake up old and all alone
Oh no. What If I never knew your name?
Oh my god, the thought's insane.
What if your love is not the same
As it seems inside my brain?
What if you're not really in my sheets?
Oh, just the thought gives me the creeps!
I woke up young, in lover's love
And I felt my luck
When I felt your touch
And my skin it wondered how
And my skin it wondered how
'Cause you be touchin' me right now
When in my sleep you can't be found
Oh. Somehow, by some rule I've carried out through all these years
And somehow I still carry on but in my fears I go,
What If I never knew your name?
Oh my god, the thought's insane.
What if your love is not the same
As it seems inside my brain?
What if you're not really in my sheets?
Oh, just the thought gives me the creeps!
(Interlude)
What If I never knew your name?
Oh my god, the thought's insane.
What if your love is not the same
As it seems inside my brain?
What if you're not really in my sheets?
Oh, just the thought gives me the creeps!
Oh no, just the thought gives me the creeps! (3x)
