Oh dear Lord,
such a chore something you've got but you never show like some deed left undone a reap you'll never sew it's like you'll never get it done, like you'll never get it done, like you'll never get it done Oh oh oh

Where's your heart? Where's your head?
Girl, your body's in my bed
I know it's hard to forget every word we've said but its like you never let it go, like you never it go, like you never let it go i know its hard, of a lover I don't know just where you are I've been trying to find ways to your lover's heart
End up with your cold shoulder, uh oh
I am not crumbling
though I thought that I might from what it's done to me
It might never be the way we thought it ought to be Lovers never sleep alone, uh oh

Oh my god, what a mess Oo it is, I must confess Every word I say to you Swept from the floor underneath the rug

Oh it's like we'll never clean it up it's like we'll never clean it up!

It's like we'll, never..clean it up!

Oh, I know it's hard Oh, but lover, I don't know just where you are I've been trying to find ways to find your lover's heart
End up with your cold shoulder, uh oh
Oh I am not crumbling
Though I thought that I might from what it's done to me
It might never be the way we thought it ought to be Lovers never sleep alone, uh oh

And you sleep alone

And you sleep alone
And you sleep alone
'Cause you sleep alone!

Oh, I know it's hard
Oh, but lover, I don't know just where you are
I've been trying to find ways to find your lover's heart
End up with your cold shoulder, uh oh
Oh I am not crumbling
Though I thought that I might from what it's done to me
It might never be the way we thought it ought to be Lovers never sleep alone, uh oh
