They're spending millions for your thrill
Collective desperate overkill
Wrapped up in harmless words than grin
Forbidden games you'll never win

The more you see, the more you know
Intended media mind control
Shut down and see how beautiful life can be

This is the prime if your lifetime
(You see through eyes of someone else)
More than a half of your lifetime
(Is just a tale in a storybook)

Push, enforce you independence
Push your real intention
Face your unconscious addiction
Push your private fiction

Push

It's getting sticker frame by frame
You're always staring at the same
What is a lie, what is the truth?
Incredible disgusting news

The world is rough, the end is near
Just calculation with your fear
Without a shame nor least respect
The operators stand erect

This is the prime of your lifetime
(You see through eyes of someone else)
More than a half of your lifetime
(Is just a tale in a storybook)

Push, enforce you independence
Push your real intention
Face your unconscious addiction
Push your private fiction

Push

Push
Push
Push

Push
Push
Independence

This is the prime of your lifetime
(You see through eyes of someone else)

Push, enforce you independence
Push your independence
Push
