You might think I'm crazy
But I've been feelin' lately
I'm standin' on the edge of somethin' ready to break
More and more I hear it
Something in my spirit
Telling me we're closer than ever to that day

The sky will open up, every knee will bow
The revelation's comin', so let me tell you now

When it comes down
I've made up my mind
I know that I will not be left behind
I see all around, the signs of the times
I know that I will not be left behind.

A firestorm is brewin'
The damage that it's doin'
Is leading to forever
These are the final days
And we will find atonement
In that very moment
When our souls are captured, raptured away

I'm searchin' my heart, I'm searchin' the sky
I'm fallin' on his mercy and know I'm gonna fly.

When it comes down
I've made up my mind
I know that I will not be left behind
I see all around, the signs of the times
I know that I will not be left behind

I will not be
I will not, I will not be
I will not be left behind, left behind
I will not be
I will not, I will not be

I've been watchin I've been prayin'
When it calls me I'm not stayin'

When it comes down
I've made up my mind
I know that I will not be left behind
I see all around, the signs of the times
I know that I will not be left behind.

When it comes down
I've made up my mind
I know that I will not be left behind
I see all around, the signs of the times
I know that I will not be left behind.

When it comes down
I've made up my mind
I know that I will not be left behind
I see all around, the signs of the times
I know that I will not be left behind.
