

Bryan Duncan

"Lonely Tonight"

Visit "Lonely Tonight" on MotoLyrics.com

Don't belittle me, don't be light
Hear me truly and hear me right
I know You love me and I know You care
I know You're always there
But I'm lonely tonight
The sun has set in a misty grey
All the color has passed away
I watch the moon as it clears the wall
"Life is good," I'm sayin', "all in all,
But I'm lonely tonight"
Yeah, my faith is gonna see me through
You know I trust in You
But I'm lonely tonight
It's not a simple need for company
I don't know where I belong in the world I see
And I'm lonely tonight
Rest assured in amazing grace
I'd feel safe in a safer place
It's true I love You and my love is true
You know I'm thankful, too
But I'm lonely tonight
I can gather all the power to choose
And I can take it if I win or lose
But I'm lonely tonight
I'm lonely tonight
I don't know where I belong in the world I see
And I'm lonely tonight
A silhouette in a garden gate
A single prayer in a solemn state
A place for me I'm gonna recognize
Someday in paradise
'Cause I'm lonely tonight
Oh, it's not a simple need for company
I know now that I don't belong in this world I see
And I'm lonely tonight
Lonely tonight
Lonely
Lonely
Tonight

