You must have been through this before
Everything turns out so wrong
You feel helpless, in despair
You try so hard, but never succeed
Someone said "don't waste your time"
Discouraged you to dare
People tend to be afraid
If only I had a crystal ball...
I wanna break the chains that keep me
Tied to this boring reality
I wanna live the dreams I dreamed
Then one day I'll die in a dreamer's way
It hurts inside
When dreams subside
Making way to bitter days
It hurts inside
I lose my pride
To think of dreams that were left behind
I don't regret the things I did
But I regret those left undone
I try to live one dream at a time
So that I'm sure to lose no one
It hurts inside
When dreams subside
Making way to bitter days
It hurts inside
I lose my pride
To think of dreams that were left behind
