Stay calm, be still.
Break that fall.
I have no time for this at all.
I've forgotten all about the child in me.
My brothers, sisters, they had to leave.

Turn out the lights, this will be the last dance tonight,
tonight.

Someday maybe, somehow maybe, we will play, like
children play.
And though we're dying, the cords are flying, in a way,
like children play.

Sleepy, like we.
I'm in a trance.
All I wanted, was to dance.
Let me dance.

Turn out the lights, this will be the last dance tonight,
tonight.
And this walk can't come to an end, it's time to realize
I'm just your friend, just your friend.

Someday maybe, somehow maybe, we will play, like
children play.
And though we're dying, the cords are flying, in a way,
like children play.

La-ah-ah-ah-aaah.
