A rotten mind in search of synergy
You're full of doubt and wishing we all could be
With a voice unsteady turned mute you gaze at me
But I can't hold your hand nor set you free

Smoker's widow

Embittered by the thought blaming leaves
"I'm just the sum of everyone else's beliefs"

Making that your home is a cold place to live
And you'll start wishing for more than you give

Smoker's widow

If you fall asleep in wait you'll never wake up
If you fall asleep in wait you'll never wake up
Fall asleep in wait, you'll never wake up
