Such a lonely boy
Couldn't find the joy within
Such a lonely girl
Such a lonely world we're living in
I watch it all go by
I can't find a tear to cry
A tear to cry

It's so obvious how they need each other
Wanting
Bleeding
Hurting but they keep it covered until it's one big lie
They can't stay alone 'cause they fear goodbye's
Well they fear goodbye's
They fear goodbye's

He don't say much when there ain't much to say
She waits for his reponse
She waits all day
The world keeps spinning in a silent scream
And I keep waking in these dying dreams

I asked her for the time
She said timing is off but I got this pain inside she said that's all you got
I've got this feeling that life is passing me by I'm a couple years late but I
I'm here tonight
I'm here tonight

He don't say much when there ain't much to say
She waits for his reponse
She waits all day
The world keeps spinning in a silent scream
And I keep waking in these dying dreams

Such a lonely girl
It's such a lonely world
