Five o:Clock in the morning
Life doesn't seem to be the same
It's beautiful, beautiful
So remember, remember

Dewdrops are dampening the sidewalks that we stroll along The streets are bare, and there's nobody there in the misty dawn that surrounds the town

The world, the world is speechless in the morning and I can watch the sun wake up the day, oh yeah

Five o:Clock in the morning
Funny how much it does for me It's oh so still It gives me chills just standing there before the morning air

Five o:Clock in the morning
Five o:Clock in the morning
