When I gave you all my love, what was I thinking of I've said it all before, darling you don't anymore
I mean nothing now to you, you can't deny it's true
I've said it all before, but you just don't hear me anymore

You don't want the love that that I give you so why lead me on this way
I tried to talk it out with you
But I can't convince you of one single word that I say

Try as I may I never make you see just what it's like for me
I can't do anymore, 'cause I've said it all before
I mean nothing now to you, you can't deny it's true
anymore

You don't want the love that that I give you so why leave me on this way
I tried to talk it out with you
But I can't convince you of one single word that I say

me
I can't do anymore, 'cause I've said it all before
