"Morning Comes After Night"

Visit "Morning Comes After Night" on MotoLyrics.com

Every night I'm running around, making my baby blue 'cause I love girls, I go out with a few and I promised them all to be true

Every night I'm fooling around, living my life in sin never thinking of that morning comes after night and I must explain where I've been

But don't tell me to stop this game
as long as you love me too
It ain't before I wake up tomorrow
I'll see that I've been untrue

'Cause I know it is wrong to go out with you and say you're the one for me because morning still comes after night
and then my baby might see me free

But don't tell me to stop this game
as long as you love me too
It ain't before I wake up tomorrow
I'll see that I've been untrue

'Cause I know it is wrong to go out with you
and say you're the one for me
because morning still comes after night
and then my baby might see me free

La la la...
