I don't see through it, not a bit
Someone has found your heart to pieces
I try to take it as a hint (whit)
I had to make your love reason
That's no response, no reply
I will convince you, at least I try
But the expression in your eyes
Is like a big black curtain in my mind
My love is just the thing for you
It's like a heart of burning fire
No one has thrilled me like you do
You'll never make me to retire
That's no response, no reply
I will convince you, at least I try
But the expression in your eyes
Is like a big black curtain in my mind
Well, that's no response, no reply
I will convince you, at least I try
But the expression in your eyes
Is like a big black curtain in my mind
