The cripple taught us how to dance
The blind man taught us how to see The fallen angel taught us how to fly and the prisoner taught us how to be free

And now we're Spinning, spinning, spinning Spinning, spinning through this magic land
getting back to the beginning of the end that we once had
we're seeing how tomorrow
like sparkling waves of sand
being washed by waves of laughter
guided by the master's hand

We're dancing now we have no feet
Our eyes are gone the light shines bright Our wings are clipped and yet we soar and love runs free forever more

Why not come dance along with me You'll see what's not was meant to be We'll fly through space without a care and free our brothers from despair

And now we're Spinning, spinning, spinning
Spinning, spinning through this magic land
getting back to the beginning of the end
that we once had
we're seeing how tomorrow
like sparkling waves of sand
being washed by waves of laughter
guided by the master's hand

Spinning, spinning through this magic land
