"There's Love"

There was a girl who came inside me to stay and even though she's gone she's here today and when I think of her my heart starts to cry

An angel without wings is hard to find affection in her body and her mind and when we were together there was love

Our souls would touch and we would tremble Closeness that you have never known but people have to go onto their journeys and even though she's gone I'm not alone even though she's gone I'm not alone

And now I see what perfect love can do create a world full of life so new that everywhere I look now I see love

There is love, there is love
