I was on my way to Daytona, I had my race gear in my pack,

When a stranger pulled up beside me in a stock car, painted black.

He was dressed like a NASCAR driver, moustache with mirrored eyes.

Said: "It's a long walk to Florida, would you like a ride, son?"

So I crawled across the roll-cage as he fired that Chevy up.

The badge on his sleeve said the man had won seven Winston cups.

His eyes were intimidatin', as he rode into the night.

An' I knew there was somethin' strange about this ride.

He said: "Boy, can you make fans stand an' scream your name?

"Can you hit 'em in the rear an' grab another gear, still roll into victory lane?"

He said: "Boy, do you know how it feels to run three wide?

"'Cause if you're Daytona-bound, let me warn you, you're in for a ride."

Then he cried when we got to Daytona an' as he pulled onto the track,

An' he said: "This is where you get out boy, 'cause number three ain't comin' back."

As I crawled out of the race car, I said: "Thanks, I'll catch you later."

He said: "It'd be tough catchin' me boy, 'cause I'm The Intimidator."

He said: "Boy, do you make fans stand an' scream your name?

"Can you hit 'em in the rear an' grab another gear, still roll into victory lane?"

He said: "Boy, do you know how it feels to run three wide?

"You been ridin' with the legend, an' it's a fast ride."
