To my surprise - my glowing eyes
Inside the dark you don't see
They're not enough to tell you that I'm here
You're watching me you feel me breathe
You stole my heart - you're such a thief
It took me just that long - to realize that you just don't care

You didn't let me go - Why couldn't you let me know

Stop thinking about the pain we feel
Wondering what could have been between

You made the choice to stay away
(Don't you know your living inside of me now)
You made the choice to walk away
(Don't you know you're living inside of me now)

I can't believe it's been a week - after the fall we went through
It seems to me - I'm humbled more than you You're crying now - I don't know how
You stole my heart - you're such a thief
It took me just that long - to realize that you just don't care

You didn't let me go - why couldn't you let me know

Stop thinking about the pain we feel
Wondering what could have been between

You made the choice to stay away
(Don't you know your living inside of me now)
You made the choice to walk away
(Don't you know you're living inside of me now)

My bones are breaking softly
The ghastly truth devoured me
I'll close the gate to this abyss
Before you break me down

You wont break

You wont break
You wont break
Me down

You made the choice to stay away
(Don't you know your living inside of me now)
You made the choice to walk away
(Don't you know you're living inside of me now)

My bones were breaking softly
The ghastly truth devoured me
I'll close the gate to this abyss
Before you break me down

You wont break
You wont break
You wont break
Me down
