I'm reaching up for my last breath of air
My head hits the wall and I am done for sure I'm floating down and sinking like - like dead weight to the floor

I might be fallen but I'm never down

The gaps are growing further
It's tearing me wide open
The threats they won't destroy me
It's tearing me wide open
The harder that I try - The easier it is to fail
And know I'm not alive - It's killing me

A hazy light consumes my night
A blurry sight across the sea
There's nothing better in this life
Than to escape and become free

I might be fallen but I'm never down

The gaps are growing further
It's tearing me wide open
The threats they won't destroy me
It's tearing me wide open
The harder that I try - The easier it is to fail
And know I'm not alive - It's killing me

Stabbing me, wondering
Regretting, anything

The gaps are growing further
It's tearing me wide open
The threats they won't destroy me
It's tearing me wide open
The harder that I try - The easier it is to fail
And know I'm not alive

It's killing me now
Leaving me wide open

I might be fallen but I'm never down
