Misery loves company, but when company won't call You're left with a mouthful of ten thousand wrong
words
It's all I got, but it's what I want

Sympathy was everything when everything fell short A text book example of a childhood in shambles It's not what I want, but it's what I got Eventually I came to see that I was seeing things all wrong

I put expectations on people who gave in -- my broken heart beats like a bomb

Life burns up faster than flames to a photograph
A big stack of mishaps so much time spent feeling bad Despite all the beauty that drips right off our loved one's lips
A child like reaction that starts and stops in selfish fits

I'm trying hard to stay awake long enough to see the day Where I can finally say I did something right for a change

I turned to you in hopes that I will improve You turn to me but I just lie there half asleep
You turn to him hoping he'll making you whole again
I turn to her and in the end we all get burned

I'm trying hard to stay awake long enough to see the
Where I can finally say I did something right for a
change
Because god I need a change
Misery loves company, but when company won't call
words

It's all I got, but it's what I want
