Seems like I've had so little time
All through my life
Maybe that's why I've always been
So impatient I must learn to be patient
For I might frighten her away

Seems like I've had just too much time
All through my life
Maybe that's why I've seemed to be
So unhurried, something just should be hurried
For I might frighten him away

Seemed like we're part of two different world
In the way we live
More than in just a few things
Let mean we both a lot to give
Learning how we do things
Sharing new things

Looking Back
I see that I've always been alone
All through my life
Maybe I knew when it was time
Love will find me
I must just learn to find me
Or it might frighten her away
Yes it might frighten him away
If we rush we may loose
What we may have found
Mmmh, Mmmm, Mmm!
