The sun comes up, sun goes down
The sun creeps up again on this old town
But I don't rise, no, I don't shine cause
You won't shut your eyes this time
Could it be that I'm thinkin' the same thing as you?
So this is how love ends
So this is how love ends
Agony sits on my knee
And Ecstasy is lying next to me
So you take one and leave me one
And when the end is all said and done
Just turn off the porch light and repeat after me
So this is how love ends
So this is how love ends
Don't think for a minute, don't think for a day
That this could have turned out any other way
Cause you got your troubles and I got some too
So just give mine back to me and I'll give yours back to you
From cracklin' dawn til 3am
From the midnight hour and back again
There's animals in the house left unfed
And I don't rise up from this bed
Could it be that they're feelin' the same thing as me?
So this is how love ends
So this is how love ends
So this is how love ends
