i bet you've never felt so distant yet we're close enough to touch keep bringing that heavy breathing the game is on you are just a little too easy and i try my best to crack a smile keep holding on to silly things that make no sense it makes no sense at all

is it in the way you move, the way you speak so daringly?
is it lying on the bathroom floor with nothing more to say?

little miss obvious
wipe the make up from your face and go tell all your friends that i'm the only one
little miss obvious
i know that we've seen better days but you still tell all your friends

am i the only one?

it's funny how we're both pretending to give a shit about it all we both know where this is leading i know the game by now, so tell me

is it in the way you move, the way you speak so eloquently? is it leaving straight through that door with so much more to say?

i'll go ahead and show you to the door i'm not the one you're looking for

wipes the make up from her face and she keeps telling all her friends

little miss obvious
i know that we've seen better days so go fuck all my friends just to see if i still care at all
