Elegant, you were born at night
Sewn by soft hands, oh, the softest hands
Born in solitude, born of painted eyes
Painted eyes that always looked to the sky

Oh, those eyes, oh, those eyes
They saw forever

How do you make forever? How can you know always?
The value of your treasures, how can you see always?
How do you make forever? How can you know always?
The value of your treasure, how can you see always?

Elegance made you live forever
May your renegade heart never fade
Your silhouette and the rest of your treasures
May your free spirit last and never fade

Oh, those eyes, oh, those eyes
They saw forever

How do you make forever? How can you know always?
The value of your treasure, how can you see always?
How do you make forever? How can you know always?
The value of your treasure, how can you see always?

Forever, forever, forever
Forever, forever, forever
